

Poem

She's seventy-five and it's her first flight. She's never believed that something as humble as a whiskbroom could shatter the bounds of gravity.